Malabar Cancer Centre (Post Graduate Institute of Oncology Sciences & Research), Thalassery is an autonomous institution under the Government of Kerala that serves as a premier tertiary care cancer hospital and research centre.

With state-of-the-art infrastructure, the centre provides multidisciplinary cancer care, combining advanced technology with compassionate patient support. In addition to curative treatment, MCC (PGIOSR) has a strong focus on palliative care and holistic support, addressing the physical, psychological, social, and spiritual needs of patients and their families.

Caring for patients goes beyond clinical expertise—it is about listening, understanding, and responding with compassion. Nurses are often at the heart of these meaningful interactions, offering comfort, guidance, and support during some of the most difficult moments in a patient's journey.

To strengthen these vital skills, we invite you to join our workshop on "Skills for Meaningful Conversations in Care." This program is designed to help nurses enhance their ability to communicate with empathy, build trust, and navigate difficult conversations with confidence.

We invite you to be a part of this learning experience, and together let's nurture the art of communication that truly cares.
